

2012 Employee Giving Campaign

Oct. 26 - Nov. 30, 2011

Everyday Heroes

Jean is a true believer in donating to the Employee Giving Campaign because she sees first hand the impact our gifts make on the families we serve. "We all give what we can. It's good for our patients, families and communities....plus it makes you feel good to help others in need."

JEH Family Resource Center, making an impact ONE patient at a time!

When you're diagnosed with a medical condition, you urgently need information and access to support services and community resources. That's why more than 1.5 million people in the Council Bluffs and Southwest Iowa area have visited Jennie Edmundson's Family Resource Center (FRC) since 1996.

Health information is available in print, media and online information.

Here is a sampling of what is available through the Family Resource Center:

- Individualized packets on any disease as well as advance directives, heart disease and smoking cessation
- Connections to local support groups and community resources
- Access to a public computer to view interactive programs on health conditions
- Educational material to prevent Shaken Baby Syndrome
- Memory bags for grieving children (preschool, school age and teens)

A few words of thanks from a Council Bluffs School Counselor:

We would like to say "Thank You" for the Memory Bag! The young girl who received it enjoyed all its contents. The teddy bear will be of great comfort as her father passed away. We fell fortunate to have an organization like the Family Resource Center that cares so much about children!
Thank you very much!

The Family Resource Center relies on contributions to continue providing information free of charge to the community, our patients and fellow employees. Please consider joining me today through your support to the Employee Giving Campaign!
